Audit Findings

Audit Narrative

The auditor's description of the audit methodology should include a detailed description of the following processes during the pre-onsite audit, onsite audit, and post-audit phases: documents and files reviewed, discussions and types of interviews conducted, number of days spent on-site, observations made during the site-review, and a detailed description of any follow-up work conducted during the post-audit phase. The narrative should describe the techniques the auditor used to sample documentation and select interviewees, and the auditor's process for the site review.

The on-site portion of the Spokane County Juvenile Detention Center was conducted on April 17-19, 2019. Prior to the audit, I had good contact with Jennie Marshall, Tony Johnson, and several others regarding the audit. All materials and necessary paperwork was furnished to me early via thumb drive through the mail.

On the day of the audit, I immediately noticed that the Pre-Audit notice was posted in a very conspicuous places in the intake and other areas. The facility had furnished me with pictures of the posted notices approximately 2 months prior to the audit and they have been continuously posted since that time. There were 21 total residents in custody at the start of the audit. One resident was released very soon after the visit started.

The initial meeting was held with Jennie Marshall, PREA Coordinator, Tony Johnson, PREA Compliance Manager, Theresa Stewart, Business Manager, Deborah Hanna, MHP, Denise Sullivan, RN, and myself. The format of the audit was discussed, along with scheduling.

Because of scheduling conflicts, the tour was not held immediately after the initial meeting but scheduled for the following day.

Interviews were lined up, with staff selected from every shift, along with targeted staff such as intake, medical, mental health, PC, PCM, HR, facility head. Also interviewed were two teachers and a maintenance contractor. A total of 21 staff interviews were conducted.

Resident interviews were also discussed, and targeted interviews were identified. 4 targeted interviews were scheduled, one who had identified as LGB, two that had reported prior sexual victimization, and one who had a cognitive disability who was interviewed to see if the PREA information was presented in a way that he could understand. 20 total residents were interviewed. The one targeted interview that had claimed an LGBTI status at intake denied that she was LGBTI upon interviewing. All interviews went well and most residents were cordial and talkative.

The tour was conducted of the facility. The first area toured was the intake area. There are several holding cells and small rooms for searches and property/clothing storage. The facility is a JDAI site, and intake staff assess youth for admission criteria. At the present time, a remodel of the intake area is being considered to make the intake process flow smoother. Cameras were visible from all areas of the intake office. Doors to prohibited areas were covered well by cameras.

Going back toward the main area of the facility, we toured staff offices, fingerprint/photo room.

Upon entry into the main detention area, there is a library located to the left. This area is also equipped with cameras and is easily visible. Counselors may use this area to visit with residents.
There are cameras almost everywhere in the facility. All doors to prohibited areas are covered. The control room has monitors to view cameras, but there is also good interaction with residents from the control room over the partition. Cameras have been recently upgraded, and several cameras were added to eliminate a few blind spots.

The medical area was viewed next. There is a private area for exams, and office space. As there was a mental health evaluation being performed at the time, we did not look into the mental health clinician’s office until later. The medical practitioner is available and on-call (or arranges coverage) on a 24/7 basis. Medical coverage is close to 24 hours per day and available on-site or by phone consultation.

It is important to note that the facility is the first detention center in the State of Washington to have earned their Behavioral Health agency licensure. The extra steps that the facility took to accomplish this is a good indication of the care that they have for the residents.

The girls’ wing was visited next. There are 12 single rooms in the wing and 2 showers. All showers are conducted one resident at a time, although one shower has multiple stalls. Staff control movement and entrance into the showers.

The first boy’s wing was next. Layout was basically the same as the girl’s wing, but more rooms. Again, showers, although a ‘gang’ shower was noticed, are done one resident at a time in the room.

There is another boy’s wing, reserved for residents who may be more of a risk to safety and security. There is another door at the entrance to this wing that can be shut if necessary.

The main dining area is observable directly from the control booth. The area is very bright, with two large skylights above the tables and open area. During a renovation, the old, darker paneling had been removed and lighter colors were utilized. The atmosphere is very inviting and pleasant.

Off of the dining area is the kitchen. Residents work toward obtaining their food handler’s certificate, however, the short average length of stay makes that challenging, but some are able to earn it. Those who obtain the food handler’s certificate can help in the kitchen with meal prep. Food is not cooked here, but brought over in bulk and dished up here. There are cameras in the kitchen covering most areas.

The tour continued down to the loading dock area, where residents are forbidden. As with other areas of the facility, doors to prohibited areas are covered by the video system.

The school area was checked next. There are 4 classrooms, and residents were involved in a number of activities. Two teachers were interviewed during the visit. One had been here for 4 years, one has been here for 20 years and is retiring at the end of the school year. Both were very knowledgeable regarding their duties if they received a report. The school had one resident taking one of his GED tests. They are a testing site, but work closely with residents’ school of record to keep them on track for graduation, if possible. The facility also has the capability of holding graduation ceremonies right in the facility, and they had several examples of this documented with pictures.

The gym was observed at the time when school let out for recreation. Staffing was 4 staff for roughly 20 residents in the gym/rec area. Residents were playing basketball and pingpong, and staff were actively involved with the activities, with one of the staff dominating the pingpong table. The residents were very cordial in all ways to me as I performed the audit, and they spoke highly of the staff and assured me that they would trust them. During the time we were observing the rec area, several of the residents who had already been interviewed came up and spoke to me again to say hi.
There is an outside rec area that has three courts, one is set up for basketball, one for volleyball and one for Pickleball. The residents had requested the pickleball court, and staff allowed them to design it, do all of the boundary line layout and painting. There is also a life-size chess set, and staff encourage chess tournaments to enhance programming.

The tour ended, and further interviews were conducted.

A report-out meeting was held on April 19. Present were: Tori Peterson, Lori Pence, Jennie Marshall, Tony Johnson, Deborah Hanna, Denise Sullivan and myself.

Several other items that are not directly related to PREA, but significantly affect the environment of the facility need to be noted. The first is the programming that is conducted by staff. All staff are required to present three or more “groups” that cover an educational topic, life skills topic and recreational topic. It is very impressive that in only one year, 1511 groups were conducted by staff. The relationship that this kind of thing builds with staff is incredible, and interactions between staff and residents show it. The critical incident rate here is very low, which I would claim is a result of the great programming held here at the SCJDC.

The second thing that is very noteworthy is the study and report entitled “Building Resilience in Juvenile Detention.” With a trend of advocacy groups publishing reports claiming that juvenile detention centers damage youth, the SCJDC decided to participate in a study to get an accurate indicator of what is really happening in their center. One fact that would astound some of the advocacy groups is that out of all of the youth studied in the SCJDC, not one indicated that he/she experienced any additional trauma as a result of their stay in detention. It was also found that the average ACES score of those youth entering SCJDC was 4.3. For comparison, the original CDC-Kaiser ACE study found that only about 12.5% of all of their participants scored above 4. This shows that the average youth coming into SCJDC already has experienced more trauma than a significant percentage of the general population.

Facility Characteristics

The auditor’s description of the audited facility should include details about the facility type, demographics and size of the inmate, resident or detainee population, numbers and type of staff positions, configuration and layout of the facility, numbers of housing units, description of housing units including any special housing units, a description of programs and services, including food service and recreation. The auditor should describe how these details are relevant to PREA implementation and compliance.

Detention Facility Demographics for 2019 PREA Audit

The Spokane County Juvenile Detention Center is in Spokane, WA, and is a part of Spokane County Juvenile Court Services. The Mission statement of Spokane County Juvenile Court is “Serving our community by providing a system that is free of bias for marginalized communities, gender, race, or ethnicity and by promoting public safety, accountability, and positive change for delinquent, dependent, at-risk children, and their families”. Spokane County Juvenile Detention is a maximum-security detention facility that houses youth aged 8 to 17 years old, although most youth detained are between 15 and 17 years of age. In 2018, the average daily population was 20.325 and the average length of stay was 8.3 days. The facility is co-ed, with individual, discreet living areas and common areas for youth dining and programming.

The facility is comprised of two stories. The upper level is a line-system housing area with three halls and 39 cells. Some of the cells can hold two youth, but because population levels are low, youth have been single bunked for many years. Two of the cells have cameras which are turned on only when the youth has a medical need to be observed such as a suicide or behavior watch. The upper level also has a library, dining hall, kitchen, and the Detention medical unit. The lower level of the facility contains the Detention school (run by WA ESD 101) and indoor and outdoor recreational areas. Food service for the facility is supplied by the Spokane County Jail and served from warming/cooling tables in the Detention dining area.

Spokane County Juvenile Detention employs a total of 32 full-time and 2 part-time staff. Corrections staffing levels are comprised of the following: One Detention Manager, One Unit Supervisor, 5 Shift Supervisors, 20 Juvenile Corrections Officers, and 2 Support staff. The Detention Medical Unit is comprised of one Nurse Manager, one Mental Health counselor, one fulltime nurse and one part time nurse. The facility also has one part-time Vocational Skills instructor. We are able to meet the 1:8 waking hours and 1:16 sleeping hours staff to youth ratios at current youth population and staffing levels.

The Detention Intake process includes provision of PREA information for youth, followed by additional PREA orientation programming after admission to the facility. Detention Medical staff provide medical/mental health assessments, medical care, and connections to community providers upon release. Our Detention school, operated by ESD 101, provides educational services to detained youth. During their stay, youth are provided information/screenings and community connections for risks such as criminally sexually exploited youth (CSEC) and drug/alcohol abuse. In 2018, in addition to services provided by community agencies, Detention staff led 1511 programming sessions including educational, life skills, recreation, family support, cultural diversity, and leadership groups. MOD programming is provided in collaboration with Probation Counselors to focus on youth’s specific criminogenic needs. Visitation with parents/legal guardians and mail/telephone services are also facilitated by Detention staff.

Detention staff seek to serve youth detained in our facility in a trauma-sensitive environment free of bias for marginalized communities. Due to recent state and national reports that Detention is harmful to youth, our Detention staff collaborated with Whitworth University in late 2018 to conduct a Trauma study of Detained youth. The goal of the study is to prove that being detained in a Trauma-informed center such as ours is not a traumatic experience for youth and may even be a positive experience. This study is underway and findings will be reported in 2019.

☐ Meets Standard (Substantial compliance; complies in all material ways with the standard for the relevant review period)

☐ Does Not Meet Standard (Requires Corrective Action)

Instructions for Overall Compliance Determination Narrative

The narrative below must include a comprehensive discussion of all the evidence relied upon in making the compliance or non-compliance determination, the auditor's analysis and reasoning, and the auditor's conclusions. This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.

The facility has a PREA Coordinator AND a PREA Compliance Manager. The PREA Coordinator answers directly to the Juvenile Court Administrator and also functions as the detention manager. The PREA Compliance Manager is also the detention unit supervisor. They work together on PREA related duties. This format gives the facility two high level employees that see PREA as one of their most important roles. This translates into better coverage through the week and gives staff extra resources when they have a PREA questions and when PREA training is being done.

The SCJDC has a contract with the Martin Hall Juvenile Detention Center that was signed back in the mid 1990’s. A consortium was set up to run a facility called Martin Hall, and all participating counties signed a contract that was a 50-year contract with a 50-year renewal option. The contract does not have PREA language in it, of course. Martin Hall provided their yearly report, but a Google search for “martin hall juvenile detention center prea” did not provide a link to a final PREA audit report, although the facility did mention that a PREA audit had been completed in August 2016. I was not able to find a link on the Martin Hall website that linked to a final PREA audit.

Since the contract was signed in 1996, before the standards were promulgated in 2012, this does not put the SCJDC out of compliance with this standard. It is noted that administration stated that they do not house residents at the Martin Hall facility mainly because they have enough beds at the SCJDC to take care of their needs, nor have they used the Martin Hall facility for a number of years.

Auditor Overall Compliance Determination

☐ Exceeds Standard (Substantially exceeds requirement of standards)

☒ Meets Standard (Substantial compliance; complies in all material ways with the standard for the relevant review period)

☐ Does Not Meet Standard (Requires Corrective Action)

Instructions for Overall Compliance Determination Narrative

The narrative below must include a comprehensive discussion of all the evidence relied upon in making the compliance or non-compliance determination, the auditor’s analysis and reasoning, and the auditor’s conclusions. This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.

The SCJDC’s staffing plan does require a minimum number of staff on duty, and is flexible if there are non-routine additional tasks that are required, such as suicide threat, group threats, equipment failure. The facility also has a plan for emergencies which allows staff to modify programs that are being held in the center. Even with those precautions in place, there were no deviations from the staffing plan within the past 12 months.
The facility goes an extra step with regards to the mandatory staffing ratio. When a shift supervisor is training a probationary corrections officer, neither that supervisor nor the PCO can be counted in the PREA staff ratio.

The facility staffing ratio observed during the audit exceeded the mandatory PREA ratio. The school was observed during the tour, and class size was small. Teachers receive the necessary training and are counted in the staff ratio. If a class was to go over 8 residents, (up to 10 is allowed) then an officer could be posted in the room. It has been the practice to have only up to 8 in each classroom.

The facility does require supervisory staff and management to conduct and document PREA rounds to deter and identify sexual abuse. Documentation was furnished showing that the practice covers all shifts and is being done with sufficient frequency.

The facility staffing plan is reviewed every year and signed by the facility superintendent. The latest review was conducted and finished in February, 2019.

As part of the staffing plan review, the facility has recently spent $680,000 in video surveillance equipment, upgrading and enhancing their program to combat sexual abuse and sexual harassment.

No cross-gender searches are done. No searches are performed to determine the genital status of any resident.

The facility does have policies and practices in place which safeguard the privacy of residents and allows them to change, use the toilet and shower without being viewed by staff of the opposite gender. The residents use a cover for their own windows that they use while they are changing or using the bathroom.

The facility policy is in compliance with Washington State code, which prohibits cross-gender searches. The policy has been edited recently to add clarity to searches of transgender and intersex youth.

Cross-gender announcement was reported to be heard by several youth, but not all. Also, some staff were unsure of the requirement. I believe that the announcement is being done to safeguard the residents’ right to privacy, and the facility will add additional announcements to its daily routine to enhance compliance to the requirement.

For training staff, the facility uses the training video that is available on the USDOJ Civil Rights Division’s website. The facility also utilizes the services of Language Line. Staff knew that resident interpreters are not to be used for any purpose related to PREA. One resident was interviewed because of a cognitive disability. That resident was very knowledgeable regarding the facility’s efforts to combat sexual abuse and harassment and mentioned that staff took the time to read the material to him so that he understood. Another staff told me that he reads the entire PREA pamphlet to the residents at intake, and he thought all staff did the same.

The facility’s forms inform employees that background checks are done more frequently than required by this standard. The questions listed in 115.317a are included in forms used for applicants and also for on-going evaluations of staff.
Incidents of sexual harassment are considered and questions regarding such incidents are asked at hire.

The Spokane County Juvenile Court Services office afforded me with free access to all background check and child abuse registry check documentation. This is voluminous, as background and child abuse checks are performed on a yearly basis, not every five years as required, therefore exceeding standards. All employees have background checks run every February. And the checks are done for ALL employees of the Spokane County Juvenile Services department, even if they do not work in the detention center. Contractors’ checks were checked, as well. All were found to be in good order.

To be noted, all SCJCS employees and contractors are also given PREA training to varying degrees. This includes even those Court Services employees and contractors that may never step into the detention center. Those employees and contractors that are given access to the detention center are given a much higher level of training.

Material omissions regarding previous prohibited conduct are grounds for termination.

Information regarding substantiated allegations of sexual abuse regarding a former employee is shared as long as there is a signed and notarized release of information.

I also was able to review several examples of inquiries that were made to other institutional employers when individuals applied for work at the SCJDC. Also, the HR manager showed the necessary release of information form that is needed for any information regarding substantiated PREA incidents to be shared with other institutions.

The facility has remodeled some of the facility, including the control room and other areas. Cameras cover the facility well. Although there are some prohibited areas that do not have cameras inside, the doors to all of those areas are covered by video monitoring. The facility recently upgraded their camera system to a very nice system designed to enhance the facility’s ability to keep residents safe. The budget for the system was $680,000, representing a significant expenditure to strengthen the safety program.

All training requirements are met in the SCJDC policy 13.7.5 a-e, and Policy 900. Staff interviews went very well, with all staff being able to describe the training. Training records are intact and training is documented well.

The facility’s intake risk assessment covers all required topics, and is conducted mostly by the intake staff, with some follow up happening for all youth by the nurse soon after intake. The records are kept in the nurse’s office, and scanned into the JIMS Computer database. The data is stored in a secure table, with only medical and mental health practitioners given access to it.

The computer system is able to generate reports based on any one of the intake screening criteria, such as reports of how many claimed LGBTI status, etc. This was very helpful in identifying targeted interviews of residents.
The facility does conduct reassessments on residents who are in custody for longer than 60-90 days on a routine basis. There were two residents who had been in custody for more than that period of time and the reassessments were checked.

Placement and programming decisions are influenced by the risk/vulnerability assessments that are done at intake. Housing is all in single rooms, so that is usually not an issue, however, there is a wing that is more secure that is used if needed.

All residents shower one at a time, not only transgender or intersex youth.

Isolation is not used. The facility’s goal is to keep residents in population at all times for the maximum benefit. Regardless, medical and mental health staff confirmed that if necessary, it can be arranged for any resident to receive daily visits from them.

All decisions are made with the safety of the residents and the security of the center in mind. The staff are extremely aware of any resident’s characteristics that might make them vulnerable, and make appropriate adjustments to make sure all residents are kept safe.

Every staff member and every resident know of multiple ways that were provided to report sexual abuse or sexual harassment. The facility does have an MOU with Lutheran Social Services to provide an external reporting mechanism that would contact the facility immediately and refer the report to them so that they can start an investigation.

Phone calls are made as confidentially as possible, but only a couple residents stated that the hotline or phone call would be there preferred way to report. Most residents said that they would feel comfortable reporting to staff, which shows a high level of trust on the residents part toward staff. Agency policy does require all mandatory reporting laws to be followed. Washington State’s MRL does require the person who gets the report to notify their supervisor AND Child Protective Services. SCJDC policy is in compliance with that report.

The SCJDC policy also prohibits the sharing of any information regarding a sexual abuse report with anyone other than designated supervisors or authorities.

SCJDC policy also requires all necessary reporting be completed, specifically reporting to parents or case workers, legal representatives and the Court of jurisdiction.

Medical and mental health care practitioners are required to inform residents of their duty to report at service delivery, per policy 12.6.

The reason that facility’s rating on this standard is “Exceeds Standard” is because the residents were able to teach me about what constitutes a mandatory reporter, and how mandatory reporters process... any allegations of abuse. I feel that the facility instructs the youth well, to the point that they are given tools that they can use after release from the facility to keep themselves and others safe.

All staff knew the first responder duties very well, from the newest line staff to administration staff that do not regularly work in the center directly. Contractors were able to cite the first responder steps as well. In giving them hypothetical situations to test their knowledge of these duties, I sometimes recited their policy back to them, leaving out one step. Each staff member asked in this fashion was able to immediately tell me what had been left out. Very good comprehension.

Instructions for Overall Compliance Determination Narrative

The narrative below must include a comprehensive discussion of all the evidence relied upon in making the compliance or non-compliance determination, the auditor’s analysis and reasoning, and the auditor’s conclusions. This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.

Policy 12.6 mandates 115.381a, b and the nursing staff showed me the tracking system that they have in their “JIMS” system. All residents that come in are given the assessment mandated by 115.341. The results are entered into the computer. The computer then can generate reports based on their disclosures. I was given access to look the 18 pages of records of residents based on their answer to the “previously sexually abused” question on the assessment. Those that showed “positive” for answering that they had been previously abused also showed when the “follow up” meeting with medical or mental health occurred. From the records reviewed by me, I am convinced that the resident was given a follow up meeting well before 14 days passed. The system can generate reports based on any of the assessment questions. The JIMS system has protected files, accessible based on role in the facility (medical sees medical, etc.)

All residents are under the age of 18, therefore obtaining informed consent is not applicable.

All staff interviewed and given a hypothetical situation related that they would call medical and mental health practitioners immediately upon learning of any sexual abuse.

All resident victims receive unimpeded access to all relevant medical and mental health services. Access is also given for testing for pregnancy, STI’s, and all pregnancy-related services would be made available at no charge to resident victims of sexual abuse. Instructions for Overall Compliance Determination Narrative

The narrative below must include a comprehensive discussion of all the evidence relied upon in making the compliance or non-compliance determination, the auditor's analysis and reasoning, and the auditor's conclusions. This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.

The facility does offer all victims medical and mental health evaluation and treatment. If the needed treatment is beyond the scope of the staff providers, outside entities would be enlisted to come into the facility to provide needed treatment.

The level of care available in the detention center probably surpasses the level of care in the community for a couple of reasons. First, the immediate availability of medical care and the quick access to it is beyond what the community can provide. Doctors and psychiatrists are available on a regular basis, as well as nursing staff, without a wait for an appointment. Second, the residents can be counted on to make it to their appointment 100% of the time.

Any testing that is necessary or determined to be medically necessary will be given at no cost, including pregnancy testing, STI testing, etc. All lawful pregnancy-related services are available to the resident victims.

The facility does offer all resident-on-resident abusers a medical and mental health evaluation and treatment. If the needed treatment is beyond the scope of the staff providers, outside entities would be enlisted to come into the facility to provide needed treatment.

The facility utilizes a process for all critical incidents similar to the one required by standard 115.386 for sexual abuse incidents. There are very few PREA incidents, and so the fact that the facility utilizes a similar (and compliant) system for other incidents, it is certainly assumed that a sexual incident review will be done following an investigation into such an incident.
